ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

My sincere Gratitude goes to our Lord Jesus Christ and our blessed mother Virgin Mary for making this work possible. I am grateful to all those who contributed in various ways towards the successful production of this work. I thank the Nnewi Diocesan Liturgical Music Commission for going through this work and for their corrections and approval.

I render my special thanks to the former principal of Monsignor Cyril Ezenduka Memorial School of Music, Rev. Fr Johnpaul Kenechukwu Okonkwo, who is also the former director Nnewi Diocesan Liturgical music Commission, and former music director St. Paul's seminary Ukpok.

My appreciation goes to the director Nnewi Diocesan Liturgical Music Commission, Rev. Fr Augustine Obiagbaosogu and Rev. Fr. Joseph Ezemba who despite their tight schedules took pains to read and make necessary corrections in this work. I say thank you for your advice, patience and guidance.

I also thank Rev. MSGR. Patrick Ezeobata for going through this work patiently and for accepting to write the forward.

In truth, this work cannot attain its level of success today without the inexhaustible financial and moral support of Rev. Fr. Francis Nwosu.

I owe a lot of thanks to my co-lecturers and students of Monsignor Cyril Ezenduka Memorial School of Music for their wonderful contributions towards making this work a reality. I am also indebted to Mr. T.O.C. Obi, Luke Ekemezie, Isaac Chukwudinka, and my co-choirmasters of Nnewi Diocese for their numerous contributions to this work.

I must not fail to show my gratitude to my lovely wife Mrs Stella Ngana and my Children for all their contributions to this book.

To each and everyone of you I mentioned and those I didn't mention (numerous to mention) I say may God bless you all in Jesus name, Amen.

FOREWORD

The tradition of musicians arranging music for various parts of the Holy Mass is as old as anyone can remember. The arrangement of the music that takes the full range of the ordinary of the Mass, most especially from the kyrie... to Dei... is a feat undertaken by relatively few musicians. For example, in the Liber Usualis of the years before the Vatican II reforms of the Liturgy, there were only 25 notable enough to be included in the book, for Sundays and Feasts, as well as a few more for ferias and weekdays of Advent and Lent. So also in the Graduale Romanum, which is the reformed replacement of the Liber Usualis (many around us are not yet aware of this replacement), there are only 20, plus some more only on individual parts. Most notable and popular among these include Lux et Origo, Missa de Angelis, Missa cum Jubilo, etc.

In our own time since after the Vatican II, when the vernacular has been accepted in the Liturgy, we have had some from among the notable Igbo composers, and we can name the very first, the Missa Chukwuemeka, and others that followed like the Missa Odudonso, Missa Ukanana, Missa Ncheta, etc. Some are better known; others not much so. They are mainly in the New Catholic Igbo Hymn Book (NGIHB).

It is along the same line of descent that the present work under review, Missa Chukwuebuka, finds its debut. In its own case, it is a medley of arrangements, and even of languages, containing the ordinary of the Mass full range in Igbo, and pieces and parts of the same in English and Latin. All of the ensemble comes under the cover name, Missa Chukwuebuka, suggesting admiration and praise of God's greatness. How far this goal is achieved in the pieces is one great reason to get a hand on the booklet.

It is also distinguished by the fact that it takes care to incorporate and effect the recent changes in the latest translations of the texts in the English and Igbo versions of the Mass.

I applaud the effort of the author, Christopher Ngana, a lover of music, in once more making the fruits of his natural interest and acquired skill available to others. The share of everyone in this menu is to get a hand onto the book, the travel its paths to its end. I commend the song book to all, especially musicians, choirs, students, and the general church public.

Anichebe Patrick Ezeobata (Very Rev. Msgr.)
Vicar General, Catholic Diocese of Nnewi.

PREFACE

According to the German philosopher "Authur Schopenhauer" music is the food of soul, it is the food of the soul. It is the answer to the mystery of life, the most profound of all arts, it expresses the deepest thoughts of life.

However, the bases of this composition originally stemmed up from my passion in composing liturgical hymns used in liturgical celebrations. I have long anticipated for this and today it come out a success.

This work contain numerous compositions of the Mass Commons in English, Igbo and Latin languages which is written in a simplified, streamline structure that is easy to interpret.

The content of this work were treated extensively and the requisite standards set by different music boards and commissions, met. This is why it is a must have for all choristers and music lovers. You can as well get for your friends and loved ones. God bless you as you sing through.
